INSTRUCTION FOR VOTERS.

Leaders of Three Parties Giving Cautionary Hints and Warnings.

Do not vote for more than two candidates for selectmen at the annual town meeting a week from Monday. Do not vote for three candidates for selectmen, as has been the rule for many years in Killingly, or you will lose your entire vote for selectmen. This is the instruction being given to the three political parties having tickets in the field in Killingly.

Killingly's board of selectmen has been composed of five members for many years, and is at present; but after the first Monday in October it will have been reduced to three members. A new state law has forced this reduction in prospect.

There is a lively fight on for places on the board and six live candidates are in the field to land the three places. The republicans, democrats and progressives have two candidates each in the field. A man may vote for any two of them and not exceed his right, but under no circumstances must he vote for three if he cares to have his vote for any one of them counted.

It is so hard to make some voters believe that a special effort is being made to make it perfectly clear in advance of voting time. No effort will be spared in this direction in order that every man may have his vote counted and not wasted, as has been too frequently the case in this town since the new form of ballot came into use a few years ago.

POPULARITY OF BASEBALL.

Crowds of 4,000 or Over Witnessing Games at Moosup.

Baseball has had an extraordinary revival late in the 1918 season in the eastern section of Windham county. It has made men who would like to back teams promise themselves something as regards 1919. They have noted that approximately 7,000 people paid admissions to see two games in this vicinity on Saturday and Sunday last, one of these games at Putnam, the other at Moosup. With the attendance coming that way—averaging all the revenue attached, at 25 cents a head—they feel like going out and getting other teams for next season. Danielson is one town that will very probably come back onto the baseball map.

Moosup has made the rest of the eastern part of the state sit up and take notice of the business done—and the baseball played, a chief reason for the surprising success of the team in all departments. It has come to be a regular thing for from 4,000 to 4,500 people to gather at the Carpet grounds near that village every Sunday afternoon for a good game of baseball. The season as good baseball as a quarter will buy anywhere outside the field circuits. Moosup's management has seen to it also that the example set is one of the very best arguments in favor of Sunday ball. There is no perfect order on the grounds every Sunday as at a theater on any night. Rooting is absolutely not allowed. All applause is limited to hand clapping and it ripples across the field in response to every good play. There is no yelling, no loud cheering. The success in getting the co-operation of the big crowd in making any disturbance is indeed remarkable. It is a great tribute to good management and an expression of the wish of thousands here to see a good thing and of their desire to see a game on Sunday if they wish to do so.

Fans come from many miles around to the game from Norwich, New London, Willimantic, Danielson, Putnam, Southbridge, Jewett City, Webster and scores of other places. Each Sunday hundreds of cars park on the grounds, completely circling the field and in some places they are rows deep. These machines in their coming, but more particularly in their going away in one long, unbroken string, make a great sight.

As the game closes there comes the purr of hundreds of motors and a spiteful spatter of the exhausts of scores of the omnipresent flivvers, mingled with the deep-throated roar of ponderous motor trucks and the various shadings of the get-agoing clamor of many makes of cars. It is the only noisy moment of the entire afternoon. Less than a length apart in many places the cars start the climb up the sinuous route from the grounds to the state highway and before the last machine is off the grounds there is a mile of cars stretching away toward Central Village. It is a sight as interesting as the game and is watched every Sunday evening by hundreds, many of whom make note of the number of machines. As high as 388 have been counted, going west alone.

This kind of baseball interest demonstrates beyond the shadow of a doubt that enthusiasm is feverishly alive again in this section and certainly means more good teams and lots of high grade baseball for next season all through eastern Windham county.

Wallingford.—It is probable that Wallingford High school football team will play a game in Milford.

The New Blend Flavor

Cigarette smokers relish Camels because in the blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos they have a brand they prefer to either tobacco smoked straight!

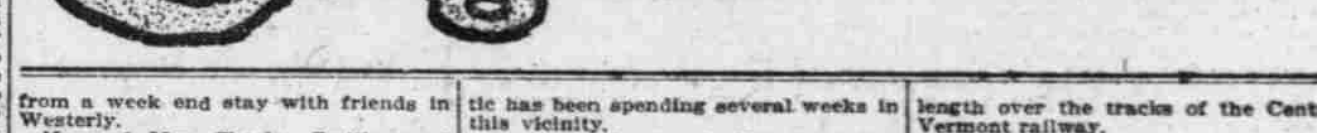

Camels are refreshing and do not tire the taste. The blend does that, producing a mild, mellow smoke with a most enticing flavor and fragrance. Yet all the desired "body" is there.

You can smoke Camels liberally, because the blend takes away the bite and parch and leaves no unpleasant cigarette after-taste.

Quality—no premiums.

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 20 for 10c; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-covered carton for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

The announcement is made that the United States government has given the New Haven road three and one-half years in which to complete the building of the new railroad bridge over the Thames river at New London and Indians that the work of construction must begin not later than Dec. 1 of the present year.

At the office of President Elliott in New Haven it was stated on Monday that a permit had been secured from the government for the building of the bridge in which the time restrictions referred to were specified. Because of the magnitude of the undertaking, however, no definite information as to the time of starting was immediately available. The cost of the bridge and its approaches is estimated at $3,000,000.

The public utilities commission has been notified by the railroad company that it has already begun the use of a portion of the new layout of the main line in East New London, the section referred to being a bridge 194 feet in

clears bad complexions

If you want a clear, fresh, glowing complexion, use Resinol Soap at least once a day. Work a warm, creamy lather of it well into the pores, then rinse the face with plenty of cold water.

It does not take many days of such regular care with Resinol Soap to show an improvement, because the Resinol medication soothes and refreshes the skin, while the pure soap, free of alkali, is cleansing it.

When the skin is in a very neglected condition, with pimples, blackheads, redness or itching, spread on just a little Resinol Cream for ten or fifteen minutes before using Resinol Soap.

Resinol Soap is not artificially colored, but has a beautiful natural color due to the Resinol which it contains. Twenty-five cents at all drug stores and dealers in toilet goods. For a trial size only, write to Dept. 65, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.
